Commissioner's Corner

Commissioner's Corner

Greetings teammates,

October had us busy with a number of great events. A big thank you to all who turned out for the KDVA 5K Run Walk and our Virtual Women Veterans Day Celebration.

As we head into November, we take time to recognize and honor the men and women who have served in our nation's Armed Forces. Veterans Day is more than a date on the calendar—it's a reminder of the courage, dedication, and sacrifice that protect the freedoms we enjoy every day.

To all our Veterans: thank you. Your service and example continue to inspire us. This month, and always, we honor your commitment, your resilience, and the values you represent.

Let's each take a moment to express our gratitude, whether by reaching out to a colleague, participating in a local event, or simply reflecting on the meaning of service. Together, we can ensure that the contributions of our Veterans are never forgotten.

Very respectfully,

Whitney P. Allen, Jr.

Home-Based Primary Care (HBPC) teams now have a faster and more secure way to support Veterans in remote areas, even those without internet access, thanks to the recent implementation of the Oracle Health Community Care app, formerly known as Mobile Care.

The app allows HBPC staff to view critical patient information, including documentation, orders, medications, labs and histories, in an offline, read-only capacity, enabling providers to deliver consistent, high-quality care in rural or low-connectivity areas. The app also has additional features, such as essential risk assessments and offline free-text documents.

Saving time and reducing disruptions

This marks a major improvement over previous workflows, which required staff to log in to laptops, connect to hotspots, access virtual private networks and launch Citrix to reach patient records. Now, staff can open a patient chart directly at the point of care, saving time and reducing disruptions. The app is in use across all six facilities that are live with the Federal Electronic Health Record, and performance so far has been strong. From Aug. 22 through mid-September, 97% of the nearly 1,400 transactions conducted in the app — such as opening a patient chart, submitting a lab order, or saving a note — were completed in under two seconds.

“I had a patient move and used the app to find their new home while in the field,” said Jessica Berger, a dietician at Mann-Grandstaff VA Medical Center in Spokane, Washington. “I have used some advanced filters on my documents to pull up notes by author or note type for ease of access. It makes finding some of the notes very easy, and I can view them in AdHoc Notes. I also bring my laptop into the home for visits, so I will use it to document in AdHoc while I reference other information on the phone app. This helps me save time.”

The app, available on government-furnished iOS devices such as iPhones and iPads, also improves data safety and security. By giving HBPC staff access to records directly on their devices instead of printing out patient charts or taking handwritten notes, it reduces the risk of sensitive patient data being lost or mishandled.

Beyond added convenience, the app also supports stronger engagement with Veterans. Staff can use the app during visits to show Veterans trends in their health information, helping them better understand the importance of their treatment plans.

By equipping HBPC teams with mobile access to patient records without needing internet access, the Oracle Health Community Care app helps staff deliver care more efficiently, securely and effectively.

2025 KDVA 5K Run Walk

Oct. 11, 2025, KDVA held the 5th annual 5K Run Walk for the Homeless Veterans Program in the E.P. Tom Sawyer State Park in Louisville, KY. A heartfelt thank you to all the runners, volunteers, and supporters who made the 5K for our veterans a success.

Veteran Centers Trunk or Treat

Check out some of the pictures from our Veterans Centers' staff and residents. Always a great time to be had.

Happy Halloween!

Bowman Fest

Our Women Veterans had a fantastic time hosting a table alongside Fleet Reserve Association Branch 177 on Saturday, October 4! It was a great day connecting with fellow veterans, sharing resources, and honoring the service and legacy of women who have worn the uniform. A huge thank-you to everyone who stopped by to say hello and show their support — your encouragement keeps us going strong!

Women Veterans Health Open House

The Robley Rex VA Medical Center hosted its annual Women's Health Open House on September 27, welcoming more than 50 women Veterans from across the region. The event featured informational sessions, health resources, and opportunities for Veterans to connect directly with providers and community partners. Dina Parrott, Women Veterans Program Coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Veterans Affairs (KDVA), greeted attendees and hosted a resource table to share information about KDVA's programs, benefits, and upcoming events.

"This open house is a wonderful opportunity to connect with women Veterans where they are," Parrott said. "It's always powerful to see women come together, learn about the resources available to them, and know they are supported by both KDVA and the VA."

The open house reflected the VA's commitment to providing comprehensive, women-centered care and underscored KDVA's mission to advocate for and serve Kentucky's women Veterans.

Homeless Veterans Program receives donations ahead of Shepherdsville Standdown

The Homeless Veterans Program received various donations in the form of clothing, hygiene products and more on Oct. 29, 2025, in Frankfort, KY. Special thanks to Gina Mickelson (center), Director of Growth Initiative- Lifeline Homecare who provided the donations.

Kentucky
Career Center
Career Training Employer

Veterans can visit their Kentucky Career Center and take advantage of the following no-cost services:

- Career assessments
- Labor market information
- Access to training opportunities, job fairs, and workshops
- Job interview preparation
- Resume and cover letter assistance
- Assistance with KEE Suite
- Access to computers and free Internet service
- Help applying for federal employment and training programs in which veterans receive priority of service

Specialized Staff

Some veterans face significant barriers that make it difficult for them to find suitable employment, especially vets who are transitioning into civilian life. Most offices have specialized staff—all of whom are veterans—who work closely with employers to create more opportunities for veterans and provide the following services to veterans themselves:

- Help developing an employability plan and goals
- Coaching in individual and group settings
- Referrals to supportive services, including vocational rehabilitation, transportation, elder care, food and nutrition services, and non-profit organizations that address homelessness

Priority of Service for Veterans

U.S. military veterans and other covered persons receive Priority of Service (POS) in all employment, training, and placement services in any workforce preparation program funded by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Veterans receive access to services or resources provided sooner than others.

Covered persons include the spouse of a veteran who died of a service-connected disability, has a total service-connected disability, is missing in action, or is a prisoner of war.

National Veterans Memorial and Museum Initiative

SHARE YOUR STORY

The National Veterans Memorial and Museum (NVMM) partnered with StoryCorps' Military Voices Initiative to collect, preserve, and amplify the stories and experiences of our nation's Veterans.

All those touched by military service, including active-duty service members, Veterans, spouses, children, friends, and community members are invited to record a conversation about a Veteran's experience. At the end of the conversation, you will receive a digital copy of the interview, while a second copy will be preserved in the NVMM Story Collection and the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress.

By adding to the NVMM Story Collection, you ensure the legacy of service lives on – not just in history books, but in the hearts and minds of future generations!

Great Questions from the NVMM

Great Questions List

Choose a few questions from the list below or come up with your own. No need to feel like you have to ask every question!

Military Service

- When were you in the military? Which branch did you serve in?
- What motivated you to join the military?
- How did your friends and family react when you told them your plans to serve?
- What was it like when you left home to begin your journey in the military?
- Tell me about basic training. Were you prepared for military life? What were you unprepared for?
- Where were you stationed during your time in service? What was your favorite or least favorite place to be?
- What jobs did you have in the military?
- Describe your daily life while in the service.
- If you served in combat and are comfortable sharing, what was that experience like? When and where were you in combat?
- How did you stay in touch with friends and family while in the service?
- Describe your transition from military to civilian life. Was it easy or difficult? Why?
- What did you do after leaving the military?
- What lessons did your service teach you that you still carry with you?
- What does your service mean to you?

Military & Veteran Family Members

These questions are great when speaking to a family member about someone who served in the military.

- What do you see as our family's legacy? How does military service influence that legacy?
- In which branches of the military have our family members served?
- What was it like growing up with a family member in the military?
- What lessons did you learn from the service of a family member?
- Can you tell me about when you became a military family member?
- How did your life change when your family member entered the service?
- Do you have advice for other military family members?
- Is there anything you wish service members and civilians understood about being the family member of a service member?
- Do you remember your favorite place you lived? What was special about it?
- How did being a military child shape your life?
- Can you tell me about a person that you felt understood by as the child of a service member?

Military Women's Memorial "Tell Her Story"

The Military Women's Memorial (MWM) is the only major national memorial honoring all servicewomen – past, present and future. The MWM honors more than 3 million women who served and continue to serve in the U.S. Armed Forces since the American Revolution.

Women's military service should be no less recognized than men's but historically the focus of history and preservation has been on men.

Why it's Important to Register?

EVERY STORY is important, EVERY STORY deserves to be told. Yet we have lost most of our WWI women veterans and our WWII women are fast coming to their final chapter. What history we have not recorded will be lost with them. We absolutely CANNOT let another generation go by without ensuring that our collective contributions are captured and remembered.

Please REGISTER HERE : www.womensmemorial.org

There is no cost to register! You can register any woman you know who is in or has served in the military. Let's keep "HER-Story alive!"
